

JD Nunn

From: morrisg@ccgla.org
Sent: Friday, November 18, 2005 1:08 PM
To: james@ccgla.org
Subject: Re: Doves

Importance: High

James,

I have given this matter some serious thought and I stand by what I said at the meeting the other night. I have no personal issues with you. I have hoped since day one that that everyone who submitted an application to the board, would bring a contribution to the organization with their passion and knowledge. That as any board member, new and not so new, that we would all do what's in the best interest for the organization and support each other and be a productive team.

I have no personal issues to work out with you, only those issues that pertain to the business of CCGLA. For that reason, I will not be meeting with you outside of business for CCGLA.

Regards,

Morris

> Morris,
>
> It appears that my fingers are not working as good as they should > (perhaps due to the cold).
>
> I agree that this affects more than yourself and myself, but I tend to > think that our meeting would certainly assist us all in moving forward.
> I'll look forward to your reply.
>
> Thanks,
> James
>
> On Thu, November 17, 2005 6:20 pm, morrisg@ccgla.org wrote:
>> James,
>>
>> You're absolutely right! I wrote:
>>
>> James, I appreciate the email and the offer to meet. I need time to >> give this some serious thought in that, this entire situation affects >> more than you and I.
>>
>> I will call you tomorrow with my answer.
>>
>> MG
>>
>>
>>
>>> Morris,
>>>
>>> I'm not sure if you meant to send a blank reply, but I thought I >>> would let you know that there didn't appear to be anything for me to >>> read.
>>>
>>> Regards,
>>> James

>>>
>>>
>>> On Thu, November 17, 2005 6:02 pm, morrisg@ccgla.org wrote:
>>>> Morris,
>>>>
>>>> I wanted to make contact before things got too out of hand. I know >>>> that emotions on both sides were extremely high during tonight's >>>> meeting, and I don't think it is beneficial to continue to have >>>> these arise - either as part of CCGLA or CEF. I think Dawnetta >>>> raised an excellent point by suggesting that if there are issues, >>>> it is best to get them out in the open, so that it doesn't affect
>>>> - or continue to affect - the organization.
>>>>
>>>> I don't understand what, if any, issues you might have with me >>>> personally.
>>>> I know you have said there is nothing personal, however a number >>>> of your actions suggest something different. Clearly there is >>>> something, and I'm sure a number of my actions may suggest the >>>> same to you.
>>>>
>>>> Oddly, in writing this email, I realized that I've not had a great >>>> deal to do with you, yet it appears that there exists this dark >>>> cloud hanging over both of our heads. It really isn't conducive >>>> to continue in this way, as I feel that both of us are passionate >>>> about our involvement with CCGLA and CEF, and if we found a way to >>>> manage whatever "it" was that is causing this cloud, then I know >>>> that we have the opportunity to make it work - for ourselves, and >>>> the organizations we are involved with.
>>>>
>>>> So what I am proposing is this. Let's find time to sit down, and >>>> talk about us. No bullshit, no curtains to hide behind ... a >>>> frank discussion, and then ... hopefully resolution. This >>>> may be a pipe dream, but I think it is worth attempting.
>>>>
>>>> One of the reasons I'm proposing this relates to the fact that I'm >>>> not a believer in airing an organization's dirty laundry in >>>> public, and I feel that some of the comments made tonight suggest >>>> that this may occur, which I don't think will benefit either of >>>> the organizations that we are both involved with. As you and Mike >>>> suggested during tonight's meeting, there will be further board >>>> discussions about actions taken over these past few days, and >>>> possible weeks. I've already submitted my request in relation to >>>> this to Dell, and I'm sure you have done the same. My proposition >>>> is not designed to postpone this, or prevent this from happening, >>>> but I think it is worth something to both of our organizations for >>>> us to take the opportunity to try and resolve any underlying >>>> issues that we may have towards each other.
>>>>
>>>> What I do believe is that we need to resolve this, even if it ends >>>> up just by setting parameters in which we both agree to work >>>> professionally with each other. This may not be something you >>>> want to do, but it is something that I am willing to try.
>>>>
>>>> Of course, this will depend on you. I'm willing to make the >>>> effort, as I truly believe that it is not in my interest, your >>>> interest or the interest of either organization to allow this >>>> squabbling to go public.
>>>>
>>>> I'm available on Friday afternoon (prior to the social), Saturday >>>> morning and Sunday morning if you are interested in meeting prior >>>> to the board meeting on Sunday. I hope that you will take this >>>> opportunity, and either way, I would appreciate you letting me >>>> know.
>>>>
>>>> Sincerely,
>>>> James

